Dear Mrs. Weisberg,

I have read your two books with a great deal of interest, and shall look forward to Whitewash III whenever it is available.

I have heard you on Hurt Dahl's program (radio) and I saw you on Louis Lomax's TV program. To say the least Mr Lomax's program was a character assassination of the worst sort and a complete disservice to the viewing public in Los Angeles who want to hear what you have to say. I keep hoping that you will appear on the Hurt Dahl TV program where I would assume you would be treated more courteously; and we could learn something instead of listening to an attack on you because you "raised geese!"

Though I do a great deal of reading, there is much that I do not understand in Whitewash #1. As a specific, I would like to ask about the Lovelady Capes. I remember at the time when the picture was in the newspapers and later upon questioning, Lovelady claimed that he was wearing a red and white striped shirt, that I commented "I don't understand. He was not wearing a red and white striped shirt." But in looking at the pictures in Whitewash II where I can obviously see that Oswald's and Lovelady's shirts are the same, the man in the picture looks like Lovelady (hair line etc.) Or is what you say true - that the pictures the FBI took were made to look like the man in the photographs.

Also, I would like to ask why there is "in-fighting" amongst the critics of the Warren Commission Report. It would seem to me that the important questions to be answered are "Who Killed President Kennedy and why and why the disservice of a White wash has been perpetrated on the American people?" And to that end, I would hope that you would all be fighting together in a common cause - to arouse the American people and to try to get the government to open the archives to qualified people who would devote full time to trying to find answers to these questions.

I am more than appreciative of the effort you have put forth in the above-stated direction and the only reason I ask questions is because I really want to know.

Thanking you in advance for your reply and your devotion to finding the truth, I am

Sincerely yours,

Edna F. Elias
